MOST WANTED APPLICATION/CONSENT

The Division of Child Support (DCS) has a DCS MOST WANTED Internet site. The Internet address is <http://www.wa.gov/mostwanted/>. The site is a tool used to aid DCS with difficult collection cases or cases where we cannot locate the noncustodial parent.

If you want your case posted to our Internet site, please do the following.

1. Complete the application and consent sections of this form. (Print or type all responses except signatures.)
2. Provide a photograph of the noncustodial parent.
3. Return this completed form and the photograph to DCS at the address listed on page 2.

CUSTODIAL PARENT'S CONSENT FOR DCS MOST WANTED INTERNET SITE POSTING

I voluntarily give my informed consent to DCS to post information about my child support case on the DCS MOST WANTED Internet site. This information includes:

1. The number and ages of my children.
2. The amount of child support owed for my children (includes the past-due and current amounts).
3. Information about the noncustodial parent.

I understand that:

1. I must provide a photograph of the noncustodial parent.
 - a. DCS will not accept my application without a photograph of the noncustodial parent.
 - b. DCS will post only the noncustodial parent's picture. (If other individuals appear in the photograph I provide, DCS will edit everyone except the noncustodial parent out of the photograph.)
2. If DCS posts my case to the Internet site, DCS will decide how long the information will remain posted. If I notify DCS in writing that I want to withdraw my permission to have my case posted to the Internet site, DCS will remove my case from the site.
3. Even if my case meets all conditions for posting to the Internet site, DCS may choose not to post my case.

I certify (or declare) under penalty of perjury, under the laws of the state of Washington, that the contents of this application/consent form are true and correct and that the photograph provided is a photograph of the noncustodial parent.
